RE: Speaking Invitation
Georgetown University Lecture Fund
Gaston Hall, Georgetown University
Convenient Date

Chairman of the Georgetown University Lecture Fund, Tim King, has invited you to address this lecture series as part of Georgetown's 200th anniversary at some convenient date. The suggested format is 20 minutes of remarks on a topic of your choice. The audience would include approximately 500-600 students and faculty members. You could expect media coverage.

The Lecture Fund is a student activity that is sanctioned by the University. Although Georgetown University is a conservative campus, our Officer in Residence Noel Firth reported that some student demonstrations could be expected. In recent years Rev. Jesse Jackson, Pearl Bailey, and William F. Buckley have spoken at the lecture series.

Since you spoke at Georgetown University last spring, although not to a student audience, I do not believe that it is necessary to appear on the campus again. If you agree, attached is a letter of regret for your signature.

Dear Mr. King:

I appreciate your invitation to address the Georgetown University Lecture Fund on a convenient date. Unfortunately, I am not able to make a commitment at this time, and therefore must decline. I certainly enjoyed speaking at Georgetown University last spring. Please give my congratulations to the students and faculty on Georgetown's 200th anniversary.

Best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Webster:

The Georgetown University Lecture Fund is the committee responsible for bringing prominent speakers from various fields to campus. In recent years our guests have included such figures as Rev. Jesse Jackson, Kurt Vonnegut, Gary Larson, Pearl Bailey, and William F. Buckley. As you can see from this list, the Lecture Fund has a great deal of interest in sponsoring programs which are diverse and feature dynamic and committed people.

Mr. Webster, your accomplishments have proven that you are indeed a dynamic and committed individual--one whose views and opinions would be of great interest to the Georgetown community. For that reason, I would like to extend an invitation to you to speak at Georgetown. It would be a great pleasure and honor to have you here and we would certainly amend our schedule to fit yours.

In addition, the fall term marks the beginning of Georgetown's bicentennial celebration. Being the oldest Catholic University in the United States makes all of us very proud and we would like for you to be a part of our 200th anniversary.

If you are interested in our offer, please contact me as soon as possible at the address or number listed below. The Lecture Fund would, of course, be willing to provide you with a suitable honorarium and cover any costs you may incur.

I thank you in advance for your time and consideration and look forward to your reply.

Sincerely,

Tim King
